

To whom it may concern,

I oppose any rules that would allow further consolidation in the ownership of media in this country. Huge media conglomerates already control far too much of what is seen and heard. How can we let them control even more by relaxing ownership rules even further? Allowing further consolidation will stifle the independent voices needed on all sides of the political spectrum to keep our democracy healthy. The FCC is supposed to guard the public interest, and there is no way allowing this further relaxation of ownership rules is in the public interest - it is in the interests only of giant mega media corporations and media moguls such as Rupert Murdoch. Please strengthen our democracy by defeating these rule changes, and by passing new and more stringent rules.

Thank You,

Peter Hack
